

Tracy (Tremblay) Kitchkeesick, P.Eng.
Chair
Women in Mining- Northwestern Ontario

Tracy is the Technical Services Manager for Manroc Developments Inc. Based in the Thunder Bay office that opened in 2017, Tracy oversees various aspects of Manroc's contracts. Manroc is a mining contractor that services the mining industry globally, with a heavy focus on Northwestern Ontario.

Born and raised in Sudbury, Ontario, Tracy is a professional engineer who graduated from the Mining Engineering program at Laurentian University in 2001. From there she went on to work for Maptex in Denver, Colorado where she had the opportunity to work with numerous clients in both underground and open pit mining. She eventually moved on to Newmont North America's Musselwhite Mine, where she met her husband with whom she shares four wonderful children, before moving on to join the Manroc team.

Tracy is passionate about encouraging young people, especially women, to consider careers in the mining industry. She believes that mining provides unique opportunities, allowing people of all backgrounds to work together to ensure that the industry advances as the technological world evolves.
